WHAT DO MANAGERS NEED TO SUCCEED IN THE PANDEMIC WORKPLACE?

With COVID-19 and its variants still looming, steps have been taken to combat the pandemic. These measures have allowed most areas to reopen their doors, and workers to return to their offices. Managers now have a looming task in front of them: how do we continue to accomplish needed tasks, direct workers, and help everyone in the group have fun doing it? How can we support a hybrid group, and keep everyone engaged? We are hosting an event with speakers who we hope will be able to answer these questions and more! Mark your calendars; this will be a great occasion for you to attend!
